Create patterns from scratch and then manage them with a single click, .use ready-made models or designs to expand your possibilities. Built-in 3D printing programs HP plotters with HPL technology The free software HP DesignJet vector printer can print on paper, plastic cards, and film. It can print small letters up to 1 inch (3.5 cm) high and can produce exclusive promotional brochures embellished with full color illustrations. 5 double-sided coated A4 pages can be printed in just a few seconds You can print any size model at any scale with top and bottom gluing. With top gluing, you can make a stitchable bag with a logo, an inside corner or a corner with a hole for a magnet. For top gluing, select the appropriate model. Insert paper into two plotters using the MX knobs, spread apart and glue together. Open the bottom and use the H-Press feature to illuminate the top print buttons. Press the top button to glue and continue on the next page. Divide the page into three parts and glue together using the top ply functions. Additionally, you can create original advertising blocks by printing them on thick paper for better printing. Optional Organize your documents with automatic ink collection Automatic ink generation can help you use your workspace efficiently and reduce ink consumption. Automated ink collection, whether it's a standard assembly or software under Windows, creates all components at once with a simple drag and drop of pages and endpoints. The ink automatically appears where you specify the number of pages. Enter the ink information into the database using the preview function. Accept fast and timely color correction. Incorrect colors can be easily removed thanks to the support of pixel extraction technology. Saving ink manually or sending to print from the Docs 4Press application gives you an additional degree of control over the amount of ink that goes to print. Error prevention You know your printed matter. You know that printing in several layers on the CMYK palette is
